Errant-Husband Seeker Has Outstanding Record

NEW YORK—George H. Lamb is one of the few favored men in the nation who are able to combine business with pleasure to an extent each year which insures them of a nice vacation.

Lamb is chief of the abandonment bureau of the Queen's district attorney's office. Every year, at about the time the season in New York indicates how desirable a warmer climate may be, Lamb hies himself to Florida or California or some other equally attractive setting.

Instead of a rod and reel, however, he takes along a few bunch warrants charging abandonment and a lot of addresses and telephone numbers supplied by deserted wives with families to support.

He usually returns with a large bag of errant husbands. His last haul was 24 delinquent husbands and fathers out of a possible 27. Of these, 21 signed papers agreeing to help support their children. The other three refused to sign. With the aid of local police, Lamb had them arrested and returned to New York.

In his day Lamb has brought back some 3,000 errant fathers. He likes to think of the children who have benefited by his work.

County Clubs Join In Observance Of National 4-H Club Week March 4-12

NATIONAL 4-H CLUB WEEK

The eleven hundred and fifty 4-H club members of Coffee County are joining approximately 2,000,000 other members in the United States in celebrating National 4-H Club Week March 4 through March 12. The theme for the year is "Better Living for a Better World".

The Pine Level 4-H club began the National 4-H Week by presenting a radio program on 4-H club work Saturday morning on Radio station WIRB. Wayne Butts, radio announcer, is very interested in 4-H club work and has greatly assisted in the presentation of the 4-H radio program. Saturday morning Wayne gave a three minute introduction to National 4-H Week which was followed by the Pine Level program.

Clinton Barker and Dorothy Sue Kikrease, members of the Pine Level Club told what 4-H club work is and many important things about it. One very interesting issue was the comparison of club work in 1925 and 1950.

Along about 1925, club work with rural youth started in Coffee County. In 1926 the first rally was held with 800 men, women and 4-Hers attending. The girls had canned, sewing and tomato clubs back in those days. In 1928 a survey was made of 3500 homes and only 30 homes were found to have water drawn mechanically, leaving 97 percent of the homes in which water had to be drawn by hand.

Today, modern facilities have extended into the rural areas giving the rural people the same opportunities as the urban people. The 4-H club membership in the county has grown to more than a thousand members. There are 38 clubs, 18 boys and 18 girls, which are located in the rural schools of Coffee County.

Through the cooperation of the Coffee County Board of Education, principals and teachers, the present 38 clubs were organized. The 4-Hers being grateful for these opportunities made available to them.

4-H window exhibits have been placed in store windows in observance of National 4-H Week. These exhibits may be seen in the windows of Salomons Department Store, Enterprise; Mission and Sullgrove Furniture Co., New Brockton; and Hayes Hardware Co., Elba.

Hayes Hardware, Elba; Sawyer and Jones, Enterprise; and Manning Feed and Seed Store of Enterprise contributed materials for these exhibits. Some materials were contributed by 4-Hers.

Everyone should make a special effort to go by and see one of the windows. It will give you an idea of what the 4-Hers of the county are trying to do. The 4-H organization is one of the largest in the world. The fact that it stands for Head, Heart, Hands and Health. The 4-H motto is "To Make the Best Better". It would be well if all the citizens

HOLLAND TWINS ARE OUTSTANDING IN WORK

Melba Ann and Thelma Nan Holland, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Holland, of Mt. Pleasant, have an outstanding record in 4-H club work. They have been active 4-H members and have held several offices. Melba has been reporter, secretary, and song leader. Thelma has served as secretary.

Their interests have been similar. Together they have carried projects including chickens, gardening, a pig, home beautification, canning, cooking, and clothing.

Sewing is their favorite project. They plan, cut, and sew their own clothes; they have recently completed wooden belt suits and dainty lace trimmed blouses from materials sent to them by their brother, who is stationed in Japan. They have made practically all their clothing for the past two years. Although they are too young to enter the county dress review this year, they are entering the special dress review at their school for 4-Hers under 14 years of age.

Being deft cooks, they frequently relieve their mother of kitchen duty and especially after meals. Thelma says—and has proved it—Thelma cooks delicious biscuits. They know how to set a table for formal, informal, buffet meals and how to serve every type of meal. This leaves their mother free to entertain the guests. Recently they helped to prepare and serve the smorgasbord given by their class.

At the present time they are busy working on their project for this year, room improvement.

Melba and Thelma realize how much it means to have a mother and father who are not too busy to give of their time and effort to train their children and give them encouragement in their 4-H club work. And no wonder that Mr. and Mrs. Holland are doubly proud of these charming and attractive young ladies.

COFFEE 4-H YOUTHS HOLD PARENTS MEETING

The 4-H clubs in each of the rural schools of Coffee County are holding a Parents Night meeting during the month of March. At the meetings the boys and girls will present, lead the singing and make talks. In fact the boys and girls holding these meetings will also be in charge of all the programs. The youngsters invite all of you, especially the parents, to meet with them. A film on 4-H club work will be shown at each meeting.

Check the following schedule for time and place in your community: March 2, Newla school; March 6, Victoria school; March 7, New Hope school; March 8, Curtis school; March 9, Zion Chapel school; March 10, Pine Level school; March 13, Bluff Springs school; March 14, Bluff school; March 15, Mt. Pleasant school; March 17, Damascus school; March 27, Fairview school; March 28, Eanon school; and March 29, Goodman school.

PINE TREES

Seven 4-H boys took advantage of an opportunity offered them recently. They received 10 thousand pine seedlings from the International Paper Company and planted them on their farm.

The boys were given the boys to demonstrate the value of pine trees and reforestation.

The boys receiving the pines were Uell Rushing, Bluff Springs; Mark Warren Weeks, Mt. Pleasant; Bobbie Cotton, Mt. Pleasant; Emmett Hyatt, Damascus; and Jimmy Smith, Curtis.

Mr. H. G. Swain, principal, and Mr. Ecar Kelley, 4-H local leader, Newla, obtained 1,000 pine seedlings for planting on the school campus for demonstration purposes. These pines were planted by 4-H club members.

4-H FORESTRY CHAMPIONS KNOW WOODLOT POTENTIALITIES

One of 1949's state 4-H Club forestry champions and a local club officer examine young pines that started him out on a forestry career. Four 4-H forestry lessons will later be given in regular cash crops bartered on well-managed farm woodlots.

As an incentive to local farm boys and girls to turn their woodlots and small timber tracts into money-making properties, four scholarships of $300 each are being offered this year in the 4-H Club forestry project. All 4-H Club members working under Extension Service supervision and enrolled during the current year in a 4-H Club forestry project, are eligible to compete for national awards.

As in previous years, top awards will be made on a national basis to the boy or girl having the best forestry record in each of the four Extension districts. The 4-H Club forestry project is a national project, and the 4-H Club forestry project is a national project.

The 4-H Club forestry project is a national project, and the 4-H Club forestry project is a national project.

4-H GIRLS TO GIVE DAIRY FOOD DEMONSTRATION

Girls in the 4-H clubs in the county will be giving dairy food demonstrations during March at their regular club meetings. These demonstrations show the value of milk and milk products in the diet. The fact that milk is the most nearly complete food is being stressed.

This demonstration is given by a team of two girls in each club. As many teams as wish to may give a demonstration. The best team in each school will represent their school in the county dairy foods contest to be held at a later date. The county winners will go to Auburn during the state 4-H short course to compete in the state contest.

In the schools which have a junior club, the demonstration "Getting Ready to Cook" will also be given and the girls will show aprons and pot holders they have made.

SOIL CONSERVATION

(By Louis Edwards)

Lespedeza sericea, often called "Poor land alfalfa" is being planted on a large scale by co-operators of the Wiregrass Soil Conservation District. Several farmers are planting as much as 20 acres or more in sericea this spring. Bruce Penel, who is in the dairy and beef cattle business, has already planted 25 acres; Rex Fordham is getting ready to plant 25 acres; A. L. and Harris Motes are planting 20 acres; Dr. E. L. Gibson is planting 15 acres and J. P. McWaters is putting in 10 acres.

These are a few of the many farmers that will plant over 400 acres of sericea. This sericea is being planted on steep, eroded or otherwise poor crop land. Besides furnishing grazing for the livestock, their sericea will improve their land and protect it from erosion. The areas being planted to sericea were selected when the farmers made the soil conservation farm plans. Soil Conservation Service workers made the soil surveys and assisted the farmers in making their plans.

After sericea is established it can be overplanted with winter crops such as crimson clover, fescue grass, alfalfa and other crops. The sericea adds nitrogen and organic matter and holds the moisture which is necessary for most winter crops to succeed.

At least eight different grazing and soil building crops are growing on B. E. Harris' river farm, north of New Brockton. He has large acreages of lupine, sericea, crimson clover, and early peas. And he has smaller areas in red clover, white Dutch clover, fescue grass, and rescue grass. Mr. Harris believes he can satisfy the cow with even the choicest appetite when all his grazing crops are well established.

True Likeness

(By Louis Edwards)

"ONY WAS ABLE to take out a bare existence with his fruit punch and every penny taken in was as carefully counted as dollars would be in a larger moment's establishment. So it was in the nature of a major catastrophe when a drop in revenue was encountered by the action of a stranger who helped himself to a banana or a pear or an apple as he passed each day.

Tony reported the situation to the police sergeant who promised to do something about it. The sergeant hid behind a post the next day and nabbed the stranger as he lifted a peach from the stand. He hustled him off to the station house and explained everything to the lieutenant.

"Now what charge shall I book him on?" asked the sergeant.

The lieutenant thought a moment, then suggested, "Why not put him down as impersonating an officer?"

Court Holds Fate Of 'Bubble-Gum' Fund Left to Kids

WINCHESTER, VA.—On Virginia's highest court rests the faith of 400 children at John Kerr public school. For the children are hoping the court will return to them the $88,000 "bubble-gum trust" left them by "Old Man Henry".

They were disinherited under ruling of a corporation court judge who ruled that the strange bequest of the late Charles B. Henry was invalid. The judge awarded the estate to Henry's relatives.

When Henry, an 80-year-old curbside merchant, died he specified in his will that the income from his estate should be divided each Christmas and Easter among the John Kerr pupils.

He wanted them to spend it as they chose—"bubble gum or toys," or otherwise. He just wanted them to "remember old man Henry." Each child would have received under the bequest between $5 and $10 a year.

The lower court judge ruled that the trust fund was a charitable trust, that it did not provide for educating the children, and that the net effect would be to use Henry's estate for all time. Thus, he said, it violated the rule against the creation of perpetuities.

Bachelor Comes to Work, Turns Out as Baby Sister

OMAHA, NEB.—Charles Padgett, 35, a bachelor, came to plaster a ceiling and stayed three days to sit with seven children.

That was the story he told authorities after three days of playing change, cooking and "diapering with the kids."

Padgett said he went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Durbin to do some repair work. Mrs. Durbin left the house to go down town. He asked Padgett to watch her seven children ranging in age from 11 years to 10 months. She said she'd be "right back."

But Padgett said he didn't come back.

"I finally put the kids to bed after I'd fixed dinner," he said. "I kept watching for the mother. The kids were asleep. I even used to diaper."

When juvenile authorities heard of the plasterer's plight, they came to the rescue.

New Auto Speedometer Idea May Add to Highway Safety

SILVER CREEK, N. Y.—Development of a new auto speedometer device may help cut down the country's traffic fatality toll.

A gadget which constantly projects in brilliant illumination the changing reading from the dashboard speedometer to a tiny metal screen on the windshield has been put into production. The dimmed screen is fastened about two inches below the driver's normal line of sight.

The relatively inexpensive accessory is hailed by the company's president, Lawrence Schmitt, as "the first basic improvement in speed since the advent of the magnetic speedometer decades ago."

"The automobile driver now can keep his eyes on the road where they belong at all times and still know his exact speed," Schmitt said.

What Else?

A BOASTFUL ENGLISHMAN was holding forth on the merits of his watch to friends in New York City. At last one of the Americans decided he could stand it no longer.

"That's nothing," he interrupted, "dropped my watch into the Hudson a year ago, and it's been running ever since."

The Englishman looked taken aback.

"What?" he exclaimed, "the same watch?"

"No," he replied, "the Hudson."

It's In The Cards For REUBEN NEWTON

to be ALABAMA'S next GOVERNOR

Making his first bid for a state-wide office in 1946, Reuben Newton carried 40 out of the 67 Counties for Lieutenant Governor.

Without a state organization and with scant campaign funds Reuben Newton went straight to the people of Alabama.

The people found him colorful, liberal and understanding, but a sound thinker with a solid grasp of the state's problems.

The people liked Reuben Newton. They voted for him 153,572 strong. And they are going to elect him GOVERNOR of ALABAMA.

Alabama Power Official To Direct Cancer Drive

BIRMINGHAM—Alabama will make its biggest fight against cancer in the months ahead, and the state-wide drive in April for funds to finance it will be led by E. C. Easter, vice-president of the Alabama Power Company.

Mr. Easter, whose home is in Birmingham, is the 1950 State Campaign Chairman for the Alabama Division of the American Cancer Society. He was selected by a special committee composed of P. O. Davis, State Director of the Agricultural Extension Service; Fred Duran, vice-president of the United Bank and Trust Company, Montgomery; and J. C. McGough, Probate Judge of Fayette County.

Alabama already is waging one of the most intensive cancer control programs in the United States, Mr. Davis, who is director of the committee, pointed out, and funds will be raised in the April drive to extend even more.

"One out of every six persons alive in Alabama today is a life-and-death struggle with cancer," Mr. Davis said, "because that is the number cancer will strike one time during their lives—one in six."

"But the cancer fight has made greater gains the last five years than ever before. The percentage of cancer cases cured has doubled since 1945. More cures in April will mean still greater success."

Mr. Easter will set up a fund-raising group, headed by a volunteer chairman in every county in the state. The money will be used to finance the cancer research, cancer education and cancer service programs.

"They seriously discuss each month, and finally decide on the 13th, which is a date which is a combination of luck and suspense, surprises the audience attending at times assumes the role of spectators and other times they are asked to participate in the program. This is a new technique in home talent, as it combines the popular version of radio shows where those being entertained have an opportunity to become entertainers and prize winners."

Professor Kermit G. Crook will impersonate Mr. I. Got Rocks, president of Dear Old Booia Booia College. In a homecoming scene he makes speeches and gives prizes to the students attending the mass meeting and per rally to back the scene. A. G. Jones, tax expert, has been exceedingly busy the past few days helping taxpayers with their forms. In some cases he has found it necessary to ask for an extension of time to get the reports ready. He said he wired Tuesday morning for six extensions and received a reply Wednesday morning granting his request. Uncle Sam's tax men are getting on the ball and giving service, it seems.

The additional boys are Jack Parker, Bert English and Harry Swain. The three boys who have been serving for some time are Oscar Ziglar, Robert Newton and Elliott Kendrick.

Policeman Strickland announces that the city council has ordered police caps, badges and whistles for the boys, with "Junior Police" emblazoned on the badges. Officer Strickland says that when the equipment arrives the junior officers will be sworn in and vested with police authority.

City Clerk T. D. Kendrick reports that Mayor L. P. Mullins announces that he intends to back up his junior police force and warns the motoring public that speedsters and other traffic violators will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law if they are reported. The boys are entering into the spirit of their authority and drivers will do well to observe traffic rules and regulations.

Motorists should remember that the speed limit within the school zone is 15 miles per hour and the junior policemen are seeing that it is rigidly enforced.

Lions And PTA To Purchase Drain Pipe
At a meeting of the Elba Lions Club Tuesday night the Lions and PTA agreed to purchase approximately 350 of 36-inch pipe and 150 feet of 18 inch pipe. The large pipe is to be installed in the large drainage ditch between the school house and the athletic field. The State Highway Department is hauling approximately 500 large dump loads of dirt to fill up the ditch and level off the ground, thus making a level field the entire width.

The smaller pipe will be utilized in installing the much needed drainage in other parts of the grounds. The pipe is quite expensive, but it will provide ample space for the elaborate improvements planned for the school grounds. It will afford adequate parking space for large crowds at the athletic field as well as room for the recreational program of the PTA.

The help received from the state has been a big aid in securing the much needed improvement and the Lions Club and PTA hope to receive liberal assistance from all public spirited citizens.

"Prince Of Peace" Is Movie Version Of Passion Play
To Be Presented At Elba Theatre March 28 - 29
One of the most unusual movies to reach a local theatre screen in many years is the new color production, "The Prince of Peace" showing at the Elba Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, March 28 and 29. Its reverence, simplicity and faithful portrayal of the Life of Jesus Christ makes it a thing of beauty and a picture of great significance.

The Lavon Story of "The Prince of Peace" is actually two stories in one. The picture is based on the life of the famous Little Minister, Rev. A. Mark Wallock of Lawton, Okla., and his world-famous Easter pageant which has become America's greatest Passion Play. A full year in filming, the producers have tried the impossible and accomplished the unusual by casting professional Hollywood actors and actresses into certain of the story's parts and surrounding them with a cast of more than 3,000 strict amateurs—citizens of Lawton, Okla.—who handle the Biblical roles with sheer perfection and amazing sincerity.

"The Prince of Peace" is top screen fare for Christian people men, women and children who want to learn more of the life of Jesus Christ. It incorporates 53 tableaux from the New Testament in providing the screen's first great treatment of "The Passion Play."

The Story of Jesus is enacted with such simplicity and vividness that the audience learns from tiny tots to aging ministers everyone in the audience learns more of the Greatest Story Ever Told. Visual education is at its best in "The Prince of Peace."

The actual scenes of the Life of Christ are breath-taking. Not a single professional actor is included in the pageant. Every part is taken by a native Oklahoman, coached and rehearsed by the producers. The sincerity and genuineness of their portrayals has resulted in a story of the life of the Great Man of Galilee.

Methodists To Build Annex To Church
At a meeting of the Methodist planning board held Sunday afternoon, it was decided to start a building campaign, the actual work to start in a few weeks. The building committee is composed of Messrs. Luther Vaughn, Harold Deal, and Dana B. Perdue. Estimates are being formulated and necessary plans made.

Plans call for a fully equipped kitchen, primary room, assembly room, and two rest rooms on the first floor and four Sunday School rooms on the second floor. According to the estimate, the building fund is not sufficient to complete the annex, but it is thought that the most effective way to stimulate collections will be to start building on a pay-as-you-go basis. The annex is to be erected at the rear of the church building and is to be 20 x 60 feet. It is considered that the present church plant is inadequate to properly carry on the activities of the church, especially the Sunday School. An active money-raising campaign will be staged as soon as actual construction is started.

Jury Convicts Maund; Date Of Execution Is Set For May 19th

Found Guilty Of First Degree Murder In Whigham Shooting
In what was said to be one of the longest drawn-out murder trials in the history of Coffee County, John Maund was convicted of first degree murder of W. A. Whigham. Following is the account of the trial as given by the Dothan Eagle:

A Circuit Court jury in Enterprise last Saturday night found John Maund, prominent Coffee County farmer, guilty of first degree murder in the killing of a neighbor, and the date of execution was set for May 19.

Maund was charged with slaying W. A. Whigham, an equally prominent neighbor, the night of January 2, during an argument over a land lease.

The verdict was announced at 10:30 p. m. after the lowest seven hours deliberation by the jury. The trial had lasted three days going well into the night Friday.

Under Alabama law, Maund's trial must be reviewed by the State Supreme Court, and an appeal is expected from his attorneys, although they could not be reached for comment.

The state charged that Maund killed Whigham with three shots from a pistol, during an argument in the Whigham yard about 9 p. m. on January 2. The argument was said to have grown from the fact that Maund had acquired a lease on property formerly leased by a third landowner by Whigham.

The two men lived near each other on the Geneva-Enterprise highway and the property over which they argued was in the same vicinity. Whigham's wife, who was called to testify during the trial, said she witnessed the shooting.

Maund was arrested by Sheriff H. D. Tillman on the following day, and charged with the murder. Solicitor Eric Paul of Elba issued a warrant and prosecuted the case.

The case opened Thursday with one of the biggest crowds seen in a Wiregrass courtroom in many years on hand. They hung from windows, overflowed into corridors and jammed stairways in an attempt to hear even a smattering of the testimony.

Chairs were placed in the aisles after available seats were filled. Sheriff Tillman lowered a rope from the jury box down to the courtroom doorway so that Maund's way through the solid mass of humanity, negotiating the improvised "dumb waiter."

Other spectators unable to get into the courtroom on the short corridor at each side of it, spilled over to the ground floor and out on the lawn and streets in front.

Funeral services were held at Mt. Zion Colored Baptist Church in Enterprise, a number of fellow pastors officiating.
